CONVENTION BEGINS TO SHOW ENTHUSIASM NOW

Parades Of Marching Clubs, Reports Of Committees And Prominent Organizations

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, June 17.—Long before noon few seats in the vast Coliseum remained vacant.

The singing of "My Old Kentucky Home" by a body in the band gallery caused the vast assemblage to break into loud applause.

It was 12:20 before Chairman Burrows called the convention to order, which was opened by Reverend William O. Waters of Chicago with a prayer.

Today's assemblage gives much more signs of liveliness and of color. As the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and other national airs the vast audience broke into applause and waving of flags.

The chair then presented to the convention Henry Baker of Minnesota and Judge James D. Connor of Indiana, who were delegates to the republican National convention that nominated Fremont in 1856.

A. G. Proctor of St. Joseph, Michigan, who was a delegate to the Lincoln convention forty-eight years ago, was invited to a seat on the platform amid cheers from the crowds.

No Minority Report
Following the prayer Harry Daugherty of Ohio, chairman of the committee on credentials, announced the committee had completed its work and would be able to present its report to the convention within an hour.

He announced there would be no minority report presented and while awaiting for the credentials report the marching clubs paraded through the hall.

Gave the Report
At 1:11 Senator Fulton of Oregon presented the report of the credentials committee. The report simply stated all the present delegates, except adding six delegates from New Mexico, as given.

The report was adopted, the vote on each report being by viva voce vote.

Warmouth of Louisiana and a few others alone shouted "No." The report of the committee on permanent organization naming Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as permanent chairman of the convention was adopted unanimously.

General Stewart L. Woodford of New York and Governor Deane of Illinois were appointed to escort Lodge to the platform.

Then came the marching clubs led by the American of Pittsburgh. Their appearance as Knox bandsters caused much excitement. They carried various colored umbrellas and had a band.

The Young Men's Rhine Club of Cincinnati, a Taft organization, followed and was greeted by delegates and visitors with cheers and waving of flags.

The convention was on its feet in a minute and it was the first real enthusiastic burst of applause from the whole convention.

Then came the Commercial Club of Danville carrying a banner inscribed "Hello Joe's Neighbors." This brought forth cheers with calls of "What's the matter with Uncle Joe?"

The Philander Knox Club of Philadelphia gave the Pennsylvania delegation an opportunity to have a demonstration of equal enthusiasm.

The Marlin club of Indianapolis, carrying Fairbanks banners, brought the Indiana delegation to their feet and tops of the chairs to lead in the cheering for their candidate for the presidency.

U. S. SEN. HENRY CABOT LODGE OF MASSACHUSETTS ADDRESSING THE CONVENTION

When Senator Lodge said the President was the most abused but most popular man in the United States the crowd was most enthusiastic.

Some one threw a large "Teddy Bear" among the press seats. The bear is now being tossed about among the delegates and the convention is wild in its enthusiasm.

The demonstration has now lasted 25 minutes and is still furious, while the band is playing "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town, Tonight."

Senator Lodge has given up all semblance of trying to stop the noise and has taken a chair.

Many of the alternates are standing on chairs and have taken seats for flags. The waving has started the scene into greater tumult. This scene has now lasted ten minutes and shows no signs of stopping. As the cheers came forth Senator Lodge remarked to friends on the platform:

"They said there was no Roosevelt feeling in this convention, but I will show them there is."

The speaker exhibited pleasure at the demonstration.

While nearly all delegates were on their feet the Ohio delegation was noticeably seated silent.

Lodge resumed his address amid comparative quiet. The full force of the demonstration lasted 45 minutes. Lodge concluded his address at 2:49.

Others Honored
Senator Beveridge of Indiana offered a resolution extending greetings to John Ade of Indiana of the republican party since its inception and tendering him a seat on the platform.

Ade, who is the father of George Ade, was heartily applauded as he mounted the platform. A similar motion for the reasons offered in behalf of W. L. Trippe of Janesville, Wis., and he was also ceremoniously conducted to platform.

Hitchcock Pleased
Frank H. Hitchcock, manager for Taft, was on the convention floor during the afternoon demonstration for Roosevelt. He expressed pleasure at the uproar and said it would help Taft.

LABOR LEADERS ARE AT HEARINGS TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, June 17.—When the subcommittee of thirteen on resolutions began its business at 11 o'clock today the doors of the assembly room were thrown open temporarily for the purpose of granting twenty minutes' hearing to representatives of the American Federation of Labor and to those of the Illinois Manufacturers' association.

President Samuel Gompers and Vice Presidents Keefe and Duncan of the Federation of Labor were on the platform.

Then came the Commercial Club of Danville carrying a banner inscribed "Hello Joe's Neighbors." This brought forth cheers with calls of "What's the matter with Uncle Joe?"

The Philander Knox Club of Philadelphia gave the Pennsylvania delegation an opportunity to have a demonstration of equal enthusiasm.

NO REDUCTION TO BE MADE JUST NOW

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, June 17.—The committee on rules defeated by a vote of 21 to 17 the resolution introduced yesterday by Burke of Pittsburgh, providing for a reduction in the ratio of representatives at the national conventions and restricting it to the total number of votes cast.

The speaker exhibited pleasure at the demonstration.

While nearly all delegates were on their feet the Ohio delegation was noticeably seated silent.

Lodge resumed his address amid comparative quiet. The full force of the demonstration lasted 45 minutes. Lodge concluded his address at 2:49.

be even the more foreboding, fear-inspiring toos of Uncle Sam Cannon. Everybody will agree that you couldn't step on the toes of the sage of Danville in Washington, which goes to establish the fact that it takes a na-citizen who votes the ticket straight. When you reach the first floor lobby—they call it the "mezzanine floor" at the Annex, where maces and prices are both big at convention times—a bewildering array of blatant invitations is at hand. There are posters to right and left; posters to front and rear. Every parlor is headquarters for some state delegation. Every state considers it a matter of honor to outdo its neighbor both in warmth of decoration and hospitality. The hospitality has nothing whatever to do with votes on the floor of the convention. It's just G. O. P. hospitality, free as the air you breathe and the champagne cigars you smoke. The bumper for Philander Knox—they call him Phil for short when they had from the Keystone state—can carry his big Knox banner straight into the headquarters of Hoosier Fairbanks. He can gaze on the great oil portrait of the vice-president. He can scent the gorgeous bouquets of fresh roses which fill the vases round the room. And he is just as welcome as though he came to say Pennsylvania had concluded to join hands with Indiana and ask for the nomination of the lengthy Charles.

State headquarters open invitingly on every hand. Every room is well pictured with the portraits of the favorite sons of the commonwealth. Michigan, for example, thus lauds the memory of the late Senators Alger and McMillan and the living presence of their successors, Julius Caesar Burrows and William Alden Smith. Iowa honors Dolliver and Allison—and the Iowa room, by the way, are as pretty as any in the building. Every state just such a parlor somewhere in this great city of Chicago—and most of them are centered in this one mammoth hostelry.

At the northeast corner of the second floor you find the keystone of the presidential arch. It is the main parlor of the Taft headquarters. You don't notice the pictures and the roses here; not because there aren't any.

WAS IT CLEVER MOVE OR ONLY BAD MISTAKE?

BURROWS FORGOT ROOSEVELT'S NAME IN YESTERDAY'S ADDRESS.

[SPECIAL SERVICE TO JANESVILLE GAZETTE.]
[Copyright: 1908, by George Matthew Adams.]

Chicago, June 17.—"Boy," said the Hon. Abner Handy of the Ninth Kansas district to the press gallery this afternoon, "Aunt Burrows a daisy? Did he do it a purpose?"

"What?" asked the reporters.

"Oh that gulping mispronunciation of Roosevelt's name." Then Theodore Rosen, he said, and the first six thousand people in the hall cheered. And then he added "Theodore Roosevelt," and the other six thousand cheered.

The whole twelve thousand never did get together cheering. It was great strategy. I tell you they have smooth politics up in Michigan."

This Kansas statesman was in his glory. Some one asked him about vice president and he switched off to that. "We tried out New York, this morning," said Handy, "and we found that the only bottom sentiment there, is for Fairbanks. So our delegation, is for Fairbanks, though, of course, if the White House will indicate differently we are for Dolliver or Cummins or any one else for whom orders may come. We find Wisconsin is for Fairbanks also, and fourteen other middle states are in the same position—willing to take New York's lead for Fairbanks. If orders do not come from Taft or the White House to indicate a preference."

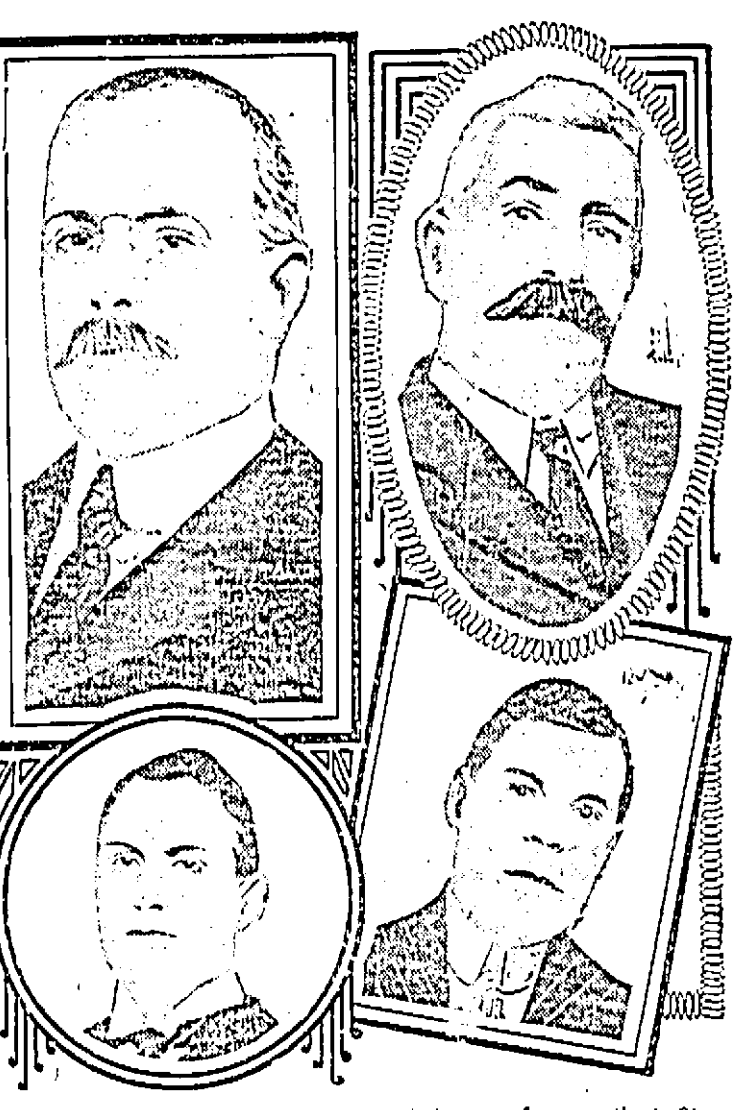

This oracle was delivered by Mr. Handy to the press gallery this morning. He has a seat on the front row where he can communicate with the press freely, and his opinion having been given, the matter may as well be regarded as settled. It will be Fairbanks unless Taft or the President interfere with the plans of Mr. Handy.

Replying to a query about Chairman Burrows' speech, sent up from the press gallery during a lull in the morning's proceedings, Mr. Handy said: "That was my idea of a great conservative speech. Of course, it did not sound a tooth; it was restrained—sedate perhaps would better describe it. It was safe and sane. Senator Hale could not have been more guarded in his remarks, and when Senator Burrows first mentioned the name of Roosevelt—stumbled over it and mispronounced it, my self possession was complete—my self control knew no bounds.

"It was dignified and highly soothing to our tired nerves, and the fact that such masterly repression brought forth even a yip or a howl of applause, even at the name of Roosevelt indicated the highly indignant nature of certain of the ill-mannered and underbred delegates. Of course, I cheered, but the eyes of Garrison county, were upon me from the gallery, and I knew it would be used against me in my campaign for register of deeds, if I did not cheer, but I did not stammer.

"A convention is no time, and a speech by Senator Burrows lauding the President in cold storage language furnishes no occasion for gorgeous and roaucous enthusiasm. Mine was simple, severe, colonial enthusiasm a white paint with green blinds—and when the fervid words of Senator Burrows pulsed in hear from the virtues of our beloved president, I know that a stampede was imminent; so I held my words and cheered eighteen and three-quarters seconds, and then shut my watch and my face with a hard

CUMMINS BOOM NOW PROMINENT

IOWA GOVERNOR IS URGED FOR THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.

BORAH WORKING FOR HIM

Hawkeyes Delegates Likely to Submit

Won't Retire.

Chicago, June 17.—The boom of Gov. Cummins of Iowa for the vice-presidential nomination was the distinctive feature of Tuesday in the contest for the second place on the ticket, and it received much favorable consideration. Senator Borah of Idaho, who early in the morning started the action on behalf of the Iowa governor, spent much of the day sounding western delegations in his behalf and at the close of the day announced that he had found much encouragement.

The mention of Gov. Cummins' name was received with varying emotions by the members of the Iowa delegation, and it soon became evident that if the governor's candidacy should be more energetically pressed, his Iowa support would not be confined to the so-called Cummins faction. Several Allison-Borah adherents promptly announced that as a matter of state pride, if for no other reason, they would support the governor's candidacy.

not communicated with the governor on the subject, it had been determined to assume the responsibility of presenting the claim of Iowa for second place. In the event there developed a continued purpose on the part of the Taft managers in Washington to insist upon an Iowa man.

After the conference it was said on behalf of those present that communications have been coming to members of the Iowa delegation from all parts of their state, indicating a development of sentiment hostile to the attitude assumed by some of the

There was much discussion during the day of the possibility of the nomination going to Vice-President Fairbanks. There is a strong sentiment in his behalf, and many predict that he will again receive the honor of the nomination unless the convention can be made to believe that, if nominated, he will decline. The vice-president is doing his best to create this impression and all inquiries meet with the uniform response that he will not accept.

Gould Stays in the Race.

A telegram from Boston announced Gov. Gould's determination to remain in the race, notwithstanding the reported defection in the Massachusetts delegation. It was stated here that an effort would be made to throw the full vote of the delegation for Gov. Gould when the roll of states was called, and carry out his wishes. Senators Lodge and Crane expressed the opinion the state should stick for Gould.

MURDER HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

New York Man Also Dangerously Wounds His Wife.

New York, June 17.—Enraged because his wife planned to secure a divorce, John Blankmeyer, former inmate of Sing Sing prison where he served a term for wife-beating, went to his home on West One Hundred and Forty-fourth street Tuesday, shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Christina Meinhart, and shot his wife, Mrs. Edna Blankmeyer, when she sought to interfere. Mrs. Blankmeyer is in a critical condition. Blankmeyer fled and has not yet been captured.

Fashionable Gamblers Caught.

New York, June 17.—Three thousand persons gathered along West Thirty-third street near Broadway Tuesday night and watched the police make a spectacular raid on a gambling house said to be patronized by guests of several of the uptown hotels. Patrons of the place, all in evening clothes, endeavored to get away by the fire escapes, but were confronted by detectives, who had been placed at every possible exit. The managers of the place and the patrons were taken to the police station in patrol wagons. Twelve arrests were made.

Use of Peanut Oil Spreading.

Over 50,000 tons of peanuts are brought to Bordeaux annually from Africa, and the value of the oil made from them is $2,000,000. Many French families prefer it for table use to olive oil, and it is much cheaper, too, the price being 55 to 82 cents a gallon, according to quality.

A Good Breakfast for Five Cents

Start the day right by eating a breakfast that gives the greatest amount of mental and physical strength with the least tax upon the digestion. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with a pint of hot milk will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work—and the cost is about five cents.

Always heat the Biscuit in oven to restore crispness. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will supply all the energy needed for a half day's work. Try Toasted TRISCUIT, the Shredded Wheat wafer, for luncheon, with butter, cheese or marmalade.

elly by the lakes. The convention engages but once in four years and it is worth all it costs. It is an inspiration in American citizenship. The delegate from Porto Rico shakes the hand of the delegate from far Alaska. Maine joins hands with California. The peninsulas of Michigan welcome the everglades of Florida. It is a common throng met for the common purpose of choosing a common leader for a great party. He you republican or democrat, you cannot deny the inspiration of the hour. Unconsciously you fall into step with the martial air from the bands which are playing everywhere.

Unconsciously your heart beats a little faster to see great banners and streamers and standards of the good old red, white and blue on every hand. It feels good to brush up against fellow Americans. It is worth while to view at close hand the statesmen who are known three years out of every four by reputation and report alone. Such splendid gatherings as this one in Chicago alone justify our entire system of political economy.

The wondrous beauty of the women of ancient times is an inexhaustible source of inspiration for poets and romancers. Who has not heard of Cleopatra, the fascinating queen of the Egyptians, or of that fair, Greek demi-goddess, Helen, reputed the most beautiful woman in the world?

Could these, and all the beauties famed in poetry, song and romance, be re-incarnated and assembled in a modern congress of beauty, it is safe to say, that their charms would not compare with the vigorous, magnificent beauty of modern women. Such comparison would, however, be totally unfair as women of the olden times were entirely dependent upon their natural charms—while modern women have the assistance of "beauty culture" which increases their beauty to an astonishing degree.

As the radiance of the sun is supreme in the blue empyrean, so is the incomparable beauty of the American woman supreme in the zenith of feminine loveliness.

It is now considered a positive duty for every woman to possess a pure, elastic skin with clean, fine pores and radiant with the youthful glow of a magnificent complexion. A course-pored skin, marred by humiliating blotches, wrinkles and a muddy, discolored complexion is now the sign of personal neglect—the only question is: Will you have, or will you not have beauty?

By the use of select toilet preparations, massage and the various treatments included in beauty culture, it is now possible and comparatively easy for any woman to cultivate her beauty to the degree of perfection. Every one knows that much of the fascinating attractiveness of actresses, singers and society women is due solely to beauty culture.

It is now considered a positive duty for every woman to possess a pure, elastic skin with clean, fine pores and radiant with the youthful glow of a magnificent complexion. A course-pored skin, marred by humiliating blotches, wrinkles and a muddy, discolored complexion is now the sign of personal neglect—the only question is: Will you have, or will you not have beauty?

PLEADED GUILTY OF BRIBERY.

Columbus, O., June 17.—M. F. Bramley of Cleveland, president of the Cleveland Trinidad Paving company, pleaded guilty Tuesday to three of seven indictments against him charging bribery of former members of the board of public service in connection with the East Broad street paving contract, and was fined $500 on each, or a total of $1,500, including costs, which was promptly paid.

Noted Hotel Man Is Dead.

San Francisco, June 17.—A private cablegram announces the death at Yokohama of Louis Eppinger, manager of the Grand hotel in that city and one of the best-known hotel men on the Pacific coast and in the Orient, aged 77 years.

And the Least Valuable.

Of all vain things excuses are the almost—luxury.

HOT WEATHER CONVINCES YOU

It makes you aware of the heat and some other things you have been insensible of during spring. The following experiences for instance are vividly suggested:

The air in your rooms on a sultry day is very oppressive. An electric fan would revive it and relieve your discomfort.

Ironing day in summer is exhausting—dangerous, in fact, to many women. An electric flatiron requires no fire and no changing of irons. Thousands of footsteps are saved. Your iron is always ready.

Illumination on hot evenings overheats the rooms, unless electric light is used. There is no flame. It does not exhaust the oxygen either.

Are these comforts expensive? No. They are economy itself, all things considered.

Then why do you not have them?

Then why do you not have them?

Dancing Defined.

Charles had been looking on at a dance for the first time in his life.

When he reached home he said: "Ammy, it wasn't a bit like I thought it would be. I thought when people danced they jumped up and down—but they didn't. They just took each other by the waist and skated."—Harp.

Shot Out.

Cactus Charlie—Not altogether, parson. It mebbe made him a low-browed sot, but it was no that made him one-eyed.—Philadelphia Press.

Origin of Common Word.

"Won't" is a contraction of "woi not," and the only form in which "woi" for "will" still survives. Shakespeare, however, could make Hamlet say: "Woi't drink up all, eat a crocodile?"—and most of the contemporary audience must have known that "woi't" represented "woi't."

HOW TO WHIP CREAM.

We sell whipping cream that is in right condition and in almost every instance will whip satisfactorily. However, whipping cream requires certain conditions.

Perfectly new fresh cream will not whip easily. It is necessary for it to have a certain amount of age, 24 hours is enough and contain about 23 per cent of fat to obtain good results. The cream should also be as cold as possible; set the cream bowl in a dish of water and ice so it will cool thoroughly. If the above directions are carried out there should be no trouble in whipping the cream.

REV. R. C. DENISON GOING TO ORIENT

DEPARTS WEDNESDAY ON INDIVIDUAL LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

JAPAN AND CHINESE EMPIRE

Will Be Visited During Summer Months—Family Will Accompany Him as Far as San Francisco.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert C. Denison and children will depart next Wednesday evening for California and the former will be a passenger aboard the steamship "Mongolia," sailing from San Francisco on Tuesday, June 30, for Yokohama, Japan. The seventeen days' voyage will include a 36-hour visit at Honolulu, the metropolitan of the Hawaiian Islands. After spending some time in the land of Nippon, Mr. Denison will cross the straits from Kobe to Pusan, located on the Korean coast, journeying thence across Korea to Seoul; from Seoul to Port Arthur; and from Port Arthur to Tientsin, the port of Peking. If present plans are followed he will abandon the beaten path upon leaving Peking, and make his way inland perhaps 125 miles, traveling by boat along the Grand Canal. In Tokyo he hopes to meet a former classmate at Amherst named Kobayashi, who belongs to one of the noble families and whose father is a member of the Japanese ministry. The latter has on numerous occasions urged the Janesville pastor to visit him and will be in a position to materially assist him in gaining a more comprehensive knowledge of conditions there than he could otherwise expect to acquire during a rather brief sojourn. Arthur Smith, a missionary who has spent many years in China, who is a recognized authority on the life of the common people, and who has written several books on the subject, will probably be his companion on the trip into the interior of the Celestial Empire. According to the schedule of the present route card, he will reach San Francisco on the return trip on the 14th of September and will be back in this city about the last of the same month. Mrs. Denison and children will spend several weeks at the watering places on the coast and with relatives at Los Angeles and Berkeley, returning to Janesville sometime in mid-summer. She was urged to accompany her husband on the trip to the Orient but could not be persuaded to leave the children.

Friends Arranged Trip. Acting on the idea that their pastor needed a good long respite from his arduous labors, the members of the Congregational church at their recent annual meeting voted him a leave of absence with full salary, until he is supplied during the interim, for as long a period as he might choose, four months being suggested as the minimum. Friends both within and outside the fold then proceeded to plan for him a pilgrimage to the Holy Land or some similar change of scene which would provide new inspiration as well as relaxation, and raised $500 for the purpose. Nothing was said about the inspiration motive when the surplus was raised, but it was nevertheless the determining factor in Mr. Denison's reluctant acceptance of the generous offer. Having preached here for twelve years, he fears, though no one else does, that he will soon be talking around a circle. He has chosen to visit the lands of the present and future, rather than those of the remote past, and those who are spending him on his journey are likewise looking forward with lively anticipation to a series of illuminating lectures next fall. So, after all, the little arrangement is not an entirely disinterested one, on their part.

May Prolong Stay Here. Only a few persons know that Rev. Mr. Denison some months ago refused a call to a large and flourishing church at Elkhart, Ohio, but that the answer to a similar summons from Minneapolis has not yet been submitted. The trip to the other side of the world makes it doubly certain that he will remain in the local field for some time to come.

Has Raised Sum of $150,000 Entirely.

President Eaton So Announces to the Students at Commencement Exercises.

Harry C. Atwood, formerly of Janesville and who is now located in Minneapolis and Miss Mabel Gertrude Durkee, were married on last Monday evening in Minneapolis at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rose Durkee, Rev. J. S. Montgomery performed the ceremony which was witnessed by a small group of intimate friends and relatives. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atwood of this city and his many friends extend their best wishes to him and his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Atwood left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip and will be at home after July 15 at Franklin Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Greeting to William Wray: William Wray, a member of Co. A, First Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, who is now a guest of his parents at their home on Milwaukee avenue, was the recipient of a pleasant call from the members of Harry L. Van Beynum of this city was appointed as a member of the executive committee for the next three years. This position is one of importance and that he will fill it with credit goes without saying.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, June 17, 1868.—From Mexico, June 17.—Additional Mexican news says that Gen. Negrete, Riquelme and others are arranging for war against the government. Negrete with 1,000 men had gone to Chihuahua, being enthusiastically received on the road. 1,000 men are concentrated at Jalapa. Riquelme has regular troops in the State of Queretaro, under Sierren. Many arrests have been made during the past month in the city of Mexico.

New York, June 17.—The work on the new Tammany hall is progressing rapidly and is to be ready the fourth of July. The hall is lofty, well ventilated, and will seat 5,000 persons. A committee on arrangements for the grandest first determined to formally receive delegates from abroad on the 24th and make a formal opening by a procession. On the 27th a steamboat excursion is to be made.

Portland, Me., June 17.—The state convention met here yesterday. Twenty-five clerics were represented. Gen. O'Neil delivered an address.

Awful Example of J. Kohler.

Never was a man confronted with such a weakness as Joe Kohler of New York. He is now in Sing Sing for six years and six months and from Joe's own account he ought to be mighty thankful for it. Every time Joe gets drunk he gets married. He's been drunk four times in the last two years and each time some female landed him high and dry. Not only matrimony stared Joe in the face but what was almost as bad, he was rounded up for bigamy and four of the products of his excess in the shape of wives came into court to testify against him. He threw up his hands and admitted he was stung. He told the court that his drinking habits were responsible. The court sent Joe to Sing Sing where whiskey and women will not bother him for 4½ years.

Cicap Filter.

The most pure water may be purified by filtering through charcoal. Take a large flower pot, put a piece of sponge or clean moss over the hole in the bottom and fill three quarters full of equal parts of clean sand and charcoal; over this lay a linen cloth large enough to hang over the sides of the pot. Pour the water into the cloth and it will come out pure.—Dellenger.

Salt's Value as Medicine.

As a medicine, salt has a wide range of possibilities. A weak solution of hot salt water used frequently as a gargle is one of the best remedies known for sore throat in its incipient stage. The gargles must not be too strong, or it will act as an irritant and thus defeat the end in view.

THINK OF IT!

The average lawyer's income is $750—the average doctor's income is $1400—the average dentist's income is $1000, and only that after an investment of from $2000 to $1000 in an education and 4 of the best years of life.

NOW THINK OF THIS.
It is a poor business man who is not enjoying an annual income in excess of $2000. $5000 is a very common thing, while $10,000, $25,000 and $50,000 incomes in the business world causes no surprise or comment. You see the point.

CASE OF COAL ROADS ARGUED

GOVERNMENT SUITS BASED ON THE COMMODITY CLAUSE.

ADMIT THE ALLEGATIONS

Defendants, However, Contend Their Mining Privilege Cannot Be Taken Away by the Federal Statute.

Philadelphia, June 17.—With many prominent lawyers representing the various interests in attendance, among them Attorney General Bonaparte, argument was begun before Judges Dallas, Hollington and Gray in the United States circuit court in this city Tuesday in the proceedings instituted by the government against seven coal-carrying railroad companies for an injunction to restrain them from transporting anthracite coal in interstate commerce from mines in which they are interested financially. The suits were instituted under the commodity clause of the Hepburn act, and the companies named as defendants are the Pennsylvania, Reading, Lehigh Valley, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, Central Railroad of New Jersey, Erie and Delaware & Hudson. The government filed with the companies the government's bill of complaint admitting the allegations concerning their interest in the mining and shipping of anthracite coal.

Defend Their Contentions.
The defendants, however, contend that the mining privilege was conferred by state statutes and is not within the meaning of the commodity clause. All the defendants attack the constitutionality of the clause on the ground that it is confiscatory and class legislation and that it denies equal protection of the law.

Bodies the attorney general the government was represented by L. A. Wilson Wilmer and T. C. Spelling, his special assistants. John C. Johnson of this city is chief counsel for the defendants. Among the interested persons in court was President Baer of the Reading Company.

Hearings Are Short.
Mr. Johnson opened the proceedings by stating to the court that all the cases with the exception of that of the Philadelphia & Reading would be argued Tuesday. He understood, he said, that owing to a difference in the aspect of the case of the Reading the government was not ready Tuesday to proceed with that case.

After the court had ascended to the arrangement Mr. Wilmer opened the argument on behalf of the government. He was followed by Mr. Spelling, and after the other side had presented its argument Attorney General Bonaparte closed for the government.

BANDIT SHOT IN LEG.

Three Men Try to Hold Up Street Car in New Orleans.

New Orleans, June 17.—Three men attempted to hold up and rob a street car on the outskirts of the city Tuesday. As a result, Henry O'Dell, one of the bandits, is at the hospital with a bullet wound in the thigh and Ernest Hoviere, the motorman, is suffering from a shattering injury at his home.

Not So Bad as Expected.

Many things seem greater by imagination than they are in effect. I have passed a good part of my life in a perfect state of health. I say not only entire but sprightly and wanton. This state is as full of verdure, fertility and vigor, made the consideration of sickness so horrible to me, that when I came to experience it I found the attacks faint and easy, in comparison of what I had feared.—Montaigne.

Communications Proffered Threatened to Be Too Personal.

"I guess my husband will not drag me off to any more spiritualistic seances after last night," said the lady in gray, wearing a slice of lemon for her tea. "You know he is just about overboard on the subject of mediums, clairvoyants, and 'seer' things at night," as Eugene Field puts it. I have begged off on going over, since we were married. You know, of course, he was a widower when I married him. Last night I went, and behold, the first thing 'Little Papoose', or whatever brand of Indian control it was, yelled out was that John's first wife was present right behind his chair, reaching out her hands to him and wanting to speak to him. I wish you could have seen John wriggle; he tried to shut the Indian up, but the first Mrs. Brown had a warning for him, and the Indian was bound to tell him. The warning was to 'look out for squaw with red hair.' You, my hair would be called red by those who are not familiar with the real ashburn shade—Tillam some artists have called my hair—and that did not help matters any. There seemed to be some news coming about other squaws in John's history, but we didn't stay to hear any more. Now John says he is firmly convinced that this spiritualism is all a grand fake."—New York Times.

Question Still Undecided.

Writers in magazines are still debating the question as to whether women are more responsible than men for the low tone of modern literature, not only as the writers of books, but as the readers. One writer suggests that novelists should be licensed and that they should give evidence of wholesomeness and purity of thought before the coveted privilege to publish could be obtained.

metallie effect and rested from a hard day's labor."

"This much Mr. Handy will say for publication. Privately he is greatly elated at the fact that the cheering for the President, under such a great encouragement of Chairman Burrows was so profuse. For Mr. Handy is one of those 'for-Roosevelt-but' men. He has always regarded the president as an interloper in American politics, and he would like to believe that now things will snap back to the good old days of Maine."

But alas for Mr. Handy he can't feel that way, so when the Ohio delegation brought down a huge picture of Taft, instead of meeting a tumult from the Hon. Mr. Handy and his friends in the convention, the picture was greeted with a demonstration that suggested a feeling of sadness and longing that is not akin to pain—but still is a next door neighbor."

But for all that, it is a great day for Mr. Handy. He is devoted with a besotted ardor, bedecked with buttons, trimmed with a show-window with badges, and covered with pennants and banners, all advertising his loyalty to Taft, like snails upon the fretful shore-lands. And he is, undoubtedly, loyal to Taft."

Taft will make it possible for the Hon. Abner Handy to be elected register of deeds of Harrison county—for the people will vote for Taft and forget Abner Handy's record."

But in spite of his antipathy to the President, a president is a president with Mr. Handy, and he is greatly disappointed at the manner that Senator Burrows of Idaho has a White House telegram asking him to help Cummins. The President sent Burrows to Iowa to get Duffley to run, so gosh says, and Abner feels that there is the authority of the snubbed behind this declaration for Cummins. And so, while he and his friends who are legion in the convention, regard Fairbanks with great favor, they withhold their support from him until the final orders come."

"They don't like Cummins," they regard him as a reformer—something worse if possible than the President. But there is the local story and it just goes down."

"You may say for me," he whispered to the boys in the press gallery, as he leaned over the front rail with his badge and pennants flying, "that the Hon. Abner Handy of Kansas regards the situation as critical."

He quitted his eyes up and said emphatically, "I may say that I regard the situation as delicate, requiring rare tact and diplomacy, in fact to prevent its becoming inimical to party success."

And when a situation becomes "highly inimical" to Abner he has said the last word possible. The foundations of the republic so far as he knows them are quaking. I mean, that the office of the register of deeds in Harrison county, Kansas, is threatened."

The party leaders have had their fair warning from Abner, and may ignore his words, and nominate Cummins at their party peril!"

"I observe, Abner," called up a reporter, "that your guess that Burrows wouldn't mention Roosevelt was wrong. He mentioned Roosevelt six times."

Mr. Handy at first refused to answer, then he put one hand in his Prince Albert coat and waved the other haughtily as he turned the reporter with scorn:

"He wrote it in afterwards, and he did the job like a man who was assigned to shoot off a sky-rocket at a funeral."

Former Cashier of Belleville Bank Wants His Trial Adjourned Now.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wisconsin, June 17.—Edwin C. Story, the former cashier of the Citizens' State Bank of Belleville, who is charged with embezzling some $28,000 of the bank's funds, must produce a doctor's certificate June 29 to show that his health will not permit him to go to trial immediately. Otherwise he will not get a continuance of six weeks. Yesterday was the day set for the drawing of a jury and the fixing of a date for the trial. Story appeared in the Madison court with his attorney, J. M. Clancy, and filed an affidavit to the effect that he is unable to proceed with the trial at the present time or in the immediate future because of his physical and mental inability to withstand the strain and that because of such physical and mental inability he has been prevented from making an examination of the books and records to be used in evidence as is absolutely necessary in order to properly put in his defense. Story deposes that if the case can be continued for six weeks and he be given an opportunity to reexamine the books he will be able to proceed with the trial at that time.

Mr. Clancy asked that a continuance of six weeks be granted.

Deputy Attorney General Jackson and District Attorney Mason spoke in opposition to such a long postponement.

Sister Claims He Has Made Away with $10,000 of Her Money.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., June 17.—Prescott Boynton, a civil war vet and former resident, is under arrest at Knoxville, Tenn., to be brought to the city on charges of embezzlement and larceny of $10,000 in government bonds held in trust for his sister, Mrs. Mary Hattenbaugh, of California. In circuit court a year ago Mrs. Hattenbaugh secured judgment for $12,133.81 which Boynton was ordered to deposit in court within 90 days and it is his failure to comply that led to the criminal warrant. Boynton has been a fugitive since last August. He was given his sister's money in 1881 and now claims that he owes her nothing.

Suea Road.

William Schuetz, who has sued the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. for $10,000 alleging that tracks of the company adjacent to his property depreciated the property that much, has petitioned the court to force the company to abandon his switching tracks on Franklin street, near his property, as a nuisance. It is said the petition is the first step in a fight which Schuetz will make in an effort to collect from the city for alleged damages, claiming that the city must protect him from encroachment of the railway company.

DEDICATE MONUMENT TO NOTED NORWEGIAN

Great Poet, Patriot and Philanthropist of Norway Was Honored Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Fargo, N. D., June 17.—A statue of Henrik Wergeland, presented to the Norwegian people of America by their kinsmen across the sea, was unveiled today with interesting exercises. The program was carried out under the joint auspices of the city government, the Commercial Club and the Sons of Norway. Addresses were delivered by Rabbid Reinart, of Minneapolis, State Auditor Iverson of Minnesota, and others.

Wergeland Centenary.

Christiansburg, June 17.—In every part of Norway today the tenth anniversary of the birth of Henrik Wergeland, the noted philanthropist, poet and patriot, was celebrated. Exercises commemorating the life and deeds of Wergeland were held under the auspices of numerous patriotic, historical and literary societies.

Born in 1808, Henrik Wergeland was the first poetic genius to raise voice in the regenerated Norway of 1814. In the struggle against absolutism which began immediately after the union of Norway and Sweden was consummated, Wergeland took a leading part. To such an extent he identified with that phase of the political history of Norway that in the popular mind of the day he passed as the originator of the celebration of the 17th of May, the anniversary of the adoption of the constitution of 1814.

In his short life of 37 years Wergeland was prominently identified with every movement having for its object the welfare and progress of his country. He urged the adoption of better agricultural methods and to promote education among the country people he established parish libraries and published pamphlets and periodicals.

The constitution of 1814 prohibited the admission of Jews into Norway. To the removal of this disability Wergeland directed some of his noblest efforts. Two of his finest poems, "The Jew," and "The Jewess," were written with that end in view, and he started a political agitation which soon after his death resulted in opening the country to the Hebrew race. In grateful remembrance of his efforts in their behalf, Jews residing outside of Norway caused the erection in 1817 of a memorial over his grave.

Here is the main point in buying a sewing machine today: All the patents covering the high-price machines have expired, and these same patents can be used in the manufacture of any machine today.

We can give you a sewing machine at $18.50 with the very latest improvements, not a cheap machine, but a machine thoroughly up-to-date, with every late improvement, a machine that we guarantee for five years.

We will sell you this machine on trial, and put it up against any machine on earth. Don't pay a lot of money for a fancy case, or for a "name." We guarantee this machine to beat anything made. It is made within a short distance of Janesville, at Belvidere, Ill., at the second largest sewing machine factory in the world.

Phone or call. Out-of-town people write for further information, or call and see the machine while in Janesville.
